The Fading Leaf.

By Request.
(F. H. Shape.)

As fades the leaf in Autumn time,
With colors beautiful and sublime,
So fades away this earthly life,
Amidst the battle and the strife.

These bodies soon must fade away,
And back to mother earth decay;
While gradually the process blends,
Until at last in death it ends

We fade away as do the leaves,
While death his countless hearts bereaves;
As from the tree of life we fall,
Each moment some must heed the call.

To others we must give our place,
When at the end of life's great race
We pass away our Lord to greet,
With loved ones there whom we shall meet.

With varying colors the leaves do fade,
And gently on the ground they're laid;
So each of us will fall at last,
Before death's cold and wintry blast.

But like the leaves we rise again,
Which truth the Bible makes so plain;
So on that Resurrection morn,
A new life in us will be born.

So may we all with prayerful heart,
Remember that soon we must depart,
As does the leaf this Autumn day,
No matter how we long to stay.

And now, dear friends, this fading leaf,
Has taught our hearts in lessons brief,
That we in time must fade and fall,
So let it be a welcome call.

And then in realms of peace and love,
In that Celestial land above,
We'll never fade as leaves that fall,
But find in Christ our "all in all."

FIRE NARROWLY AVERTED

What might have proved a disastrous fire was narrowly averted at the Busley Cafe last Tuesday. Smoke was first noticed coming through the floors in the P. V. Hodges store next door. No fire could be found, but Chief M. H. Young with the aid of a powerful search light which penetrated the smoke, located the fire underneath the range in the restaurant. It was smoldering in the joint and flooring, and would soon have broken out in a blaze.

ENTERTAINED CLUB HALLOW'EEN NIGHT

Saturday evening was Hollow'een and the members of the "Maids and Matrons" Club gathered at the home of one of its members, Mrs. W. J. Johnson, to pay tribute to the old time custom of having a good time on this night of "Spooks and Witches."

A pot luck supper, and it was "Some Eats too," was served at seven sharp. The table, of course, fairly groaned under its load of good "things suitable to the time and occasion."

After ample justice had been done to all this, the remainder of the evening was spent in having all the fun that they could crowd in between the hours of seven and twelve, for at that appointed hour all the spooks and ghosts that we read about would be out on dress parade and all maids and perhaps all matrons should be snug at home, safe from all harm.

MARRIAGE LICENSE. WHO MAY ISSUE

The statutes of Michigan provide that where one or both of the parties desiring a license to marry reside in the State, such license can be lawfully issued only by the county clerk of the county "in which either the man or woman resides." Such license is good anywhere in the state. Where both parties are non-residents a license may be obtained in any county, but is valid only in the county where it is issued. There is no such thing as a "trust in this marrying game" among the county clerks, as stated in an item appearing in last week's Northerner. When the Kalamazoo county clerk refused a license to a Van Buren county couple he was only obeying the statute "in such case made and provided."

Rev. Carman and family had the pleasure of entertaining some friends from Mendon on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Boyer and little daughter, Mrs. E. A. McElish and Mrs. C. Shear, came over by auto in time for the morning church service, and spent the day. Rev. Carman was their pastor at Mendon for four years, and this visit was very enjoyable.

SPLENDID FEATURES FOR THE IDLE HOUR

One of the best pictures ever shown at the Idle Hour Theatre was "The Man of the Hour" a five reel feature starring Robert Warwick, last Wednesday night. The theatre was packed to capacity for two shows, and the show gave excellent satisfaction. Tonight, "Chelsea 7750" will be shown. This is a four act film, featuring Henry E. Dixey, and is said to be one of the best. Tomorrow, Saturday, is Charley Chaplin night as usual, with western and other interesting films. The management of this popular Movie House is leaving no stone unturned to give its patrons the best that can be provided in the way of good features. The bookings for this month include many star features which will undoubtedly be greeted by large and appreciative audiences.

Notice.

Through no fault of the printer the date of the Buzinski auction sale was wrong. It should have read Wednesday, November 10, instead of Thursday.

NEW MANAGER FOR COLONIAL THEATRE

The Colonial Theatre is now under new management. Harry T. Craig of Chicago is the manager. Mr. Craig has had 14 years' experience in the moving picture business, and promises the "Movie Fans" of Paw Paw and vicinity the best there is to be had. The theatre opened under the new management on Wednesday night, with the film "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Miss Violet Horner, who in private life is Mrs. Harry Craig, took the role of Mrs. Morgan in the play. In connection with the pictures, she gave a lecture on making of motion pictures. Mr. Craig also gave a lecture, explaining the pictures as they were run on the screen.

Mr. Pierce, former manager of the Colonial is now in Detroit on business and may go in business there. Mrs. Pierce and children will probably join him there later, as Miss Marian has a position in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cross returned home Monday from several days' visit with relatives in Benton Harbor.
